CALIFORNIA'S GUEST.

GENERAL GRANT'S PROGRAMME FOR THE WEEK.

'Frisco Laying Itself Out to do Honor to the ex-President—Outline of the Daily Doings.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—A special committee have arranged a programme for the week as follows: This evening, General Grant and party will visit the California theater to witness a performance of the military spectacle, the "Color Guard," after which a grand serenade will be given by the band of the Second Brigade of National Guards, in the court of the Palace Hotel. On Tuesday, at 11 A. M. General and Mrs. Grant will attend the special session of the Methodist conference at the Palace Hotel. At 1 P. M., escorted by Mayor Bryant, the supervisors and the executive committees, they will proceed to the mayor's office at the new city hall, where they will hold a grand general reception during the entire afternoon. In the evening they will attend a grand ball at the Mechanic Pavilion, given in aid of the fund for the relief of the widows and orphans of deceased members of the police department. On Wednesday evening they will witness for the first time a performance of "Pinafore" at Baldwin's Theater. On Thursday they will leave by the 11:15 A. M. boat for Oakland, where they will be entertained during the day, returning at 6 P. M. On Friday they will take a special train at noon for San Jose to attend the Santa Clara Valley agricultural exhibition. They will be attended by the mayor, the board of supervisors and the executive committee, returning in the evening. On Saturday morning they will visit the San Francisco stock exchange, and in the evening will attend a grand camp fire of Union and Confederate veterans at the Pavilion.

This forenoon General Grant, by special request, reviewed the Stockton Guard in the court of the Palace Hotel. Shortly before noon, accompanied by Mrs. Grant and Mayor and Mrs. Bryant, he visited Tabor's photograph gallery, on Montgomery street, near Market, and had some pictures taken. His departure from the hotel was made by a side entrance and was unobserved, and the party walked to the gallery, the general being recognized but by four persons, and then only by a passing glance. This afternoon a party consisting of General and Mrs. Grant and suite, Mayor Bryant, Supervisors Danforth, Gibbs and Talbot, and Generals Coey and Miller, will drive to the Cliff, where they will lunch. At the California Theater great preparations are being made for the production of "Color Guards," and the reception of General Grant's party this evening, the boxes being rearranged and ornamented for their reception.

The first regular band will assist on the stage, and the orchestra will play an army quadrille, composed for the occasion by the conductor, Professor Withers, and dedicated to General Grant.

At 9 o'clock this morning a line was formed at the box-office, and it is likely there will be a tremendous crush this evening. The General has accepted an invitation to visit Virginia City about October 20th on his way East. He will time his visit to Oregon, so that it will take place during the State fair—the first week in October.

The Fever City.

MEMPHIS, September 23.—No new cases reported. One death since last night, Herbert Ellsnor. The weather is clear and warm.

LATER.—Seven new cases, Rev. Father Revelli, Maggie Murray, Bessie Anderson, George Jerome, J. D. Allen, Harrietta Richer, and John Bowles. The two last colored. Three deaths, E. E. Marshall and wife and J. F. Cranan. Mrs. Prestidge's condition is more favorable. The following telegram was received by the Board of Health who telegraphed to Nashville for instructions:

"Employ at once the best legal talent to be found in Memphis and resist by all lawful means the application made for injunction. Send me the name of the attorney you employ. Every process shall be exhausted to protect the lives and health of the people in the district contiguous to Memphis.

(Signed) J. D. PLUNKETT,
President Board of Health."

Among the contributions received by the Howards to-day were $3,000 from the Chamber of Commerce, New York; $539,67 from the citizens of Columbus, Ohio.

Another Interview.

PARIS, September 23.—The main points inducing the interview between Lord Salisbury and M. Waddington are the Greek and Egyptian questions, concerning which there exists a good understanding. It is not thought England or France need pay much attention to the Bismarck-Andrassy interview, since it only contemplates the unity of the two nations represented.

French Wheat of Poor Quality.

PARIS, September 23.—The bulletin DeShalles reports that new threshed so far is unsatisfactory both in yield and quality, being deficient even in districts where it was expected favorable. In several departments new wheat fetches from three to four francs per quintal less than old, some of it requiring several months drying before it can be milled.

The Turf.

LONDON, September 23.—The race for the great foal stakes for three year olds, came off at New Market, 1st of October meeting, to-day, and was won by Count F. DeGrange's Chestnut colt Rayon D'Or; Mr. T. B. Brown's bay colt Discard second; J. Tratter's chestnut colt Palmbearer third.

Harmonizing.

VIENNA, September 23.—The conference between Bismarck and Andrassy undoubtedly contemplates a consolidation of German and Austrian interests. The Russian story of the occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina served, perhaps, to effect a consolidation of all German speaking States.

A Life Sentence.

ROCKLAND, Maine, September 23.—Daniel D. Haines, convicted of the murder of James P. Robbins, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life.

A Fruitless Nomination.

ALTOONA, Pa., September 23.—The Prohibitionists met in Convention today and nominated William L. Richardson for State Treasurer.

Poor Show for Wine.

LONDON, September 23.—The grape crop of France is short and of bad quality.

Gone to Rome.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 23.—The Norwelles du Dour states that M. Freer, organ minister of foreign affairs, has gone to Rome incognito, to negotiate with the Vatican respecting the attitude of the Belgian clergy. That journal says: Cardinal Nina, the Papal secretary of state inclines to moderation, but the Jesuits are pushing matters to extremes. Belgian Bishops have asked the Pope for precise instructions which the Pope hesitates to give. The threatened refusal of sacraments by Bishops to elementary school teachers who retain their posts under the system has so far led to the resignation of only one hundred out of a total of seven thousand five hundred teachers.

The Pedestrians.

NEW YORK, September 23.—Rowell continues to keep steady lead, varying from ten to fourteen miles.

1 P. M.—Weston, 135 miles 6 laps; Rowell, 156 miles, 2 laps; Hazael, 150 miles; Guyon, 159 miles, 7 laps; Ennis, 130 miles; Panchatt, 136 miles; Merritt 152 miles, 4 laps; Hart, 146 miles, 1 lap; Krohne, 122 miles, 3 laps; Taylor, 93 miles; Jackson 134 miles; 7 laps; Federmeyer, 115 miles, 4 laps.

THE LATEST.

The walking match still continues to attract general attention. Rowell still continues his lead having completed 188 miles at 5 o'clock. Guyon is a fair second, having scored 175 miles and Merritt 161. Hazael and Hart both lead Weston, the latter having completed only 150 miles. The remainder of the competitors are doing possibly well except Taylor, who has not yet completed 100 miles.

Shooting a Marshal.

CHARLSTON, September 23.—Special United States Deputy Marshal A. F. Davis was shot yesterday in Spartanburg by J. B. Panther while serving a bench warrant issued in North Carolina, but made serviceable in Spartanburg District by Judge Bryan. Panther was shot in the the leg by a colored man and is now in jail. Davis' thigh bone was broken.

The Cornell-Kelly Barter.

New York Times, (Rep.).

The weakness of the Saratoga nominations was partly due to an implicit reliance upon the Democratic spirit which was completed at Syracuse. The men who are responsible for these nominations not only regard John Kelly as their ally in carrying the State, but they seem also to be prepared to reciprocate his serviceable secession by leaving him a clear field in the local campaign this fall. At this point the people of New York, without distinction of party, must have a word to say.

A Reckless Performance.

The foolhardy performance of Captain James Swan, "the man crocodile," at the Theater Comique in Providence came near resulting fatally the other evening. He was in a large plate-glass tank of water with an alligator six feet long, and, after stirring up the reptile till it was furious, he tore open its jaws and placed his head between them. Quick as a flash they closed and Swan's death seemed certain. With almost superhuman exertion he freed himself, however, and sprang out of the tank, his cheeks being deeply gashed by the alligator's teeth. In a moment he returned to the water, forced the reptile into submission and went on with his exhibition.

A Fortunate Little Girl.

Franklin Reporter.

WEBSTER, September 14.—Who can show more living ancestors than my little grand daughter, Minnie Myra Bird, now at my house? Both her grand mothers are dead; but she has, now living, both her parents, both her grand fathers, three great grand fathers, two great grand mothers, and one great great grand mother, making ten living ancestors, and one great grand mother died only last spring.

Yours truly, JAMES W. TERRELL.

DOCTORED DOCUMENTS.

A NICE PRACTICE IN THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Statistical Misrepresentation--Dead-Head Campaign Documents---The Official Duties of the Clerks.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Attention has been directed to the practice which has grown up in the Treasury of furnishing for publication statistical statements so arranged as to make capital for the partisan organization with which the administration is in sympathy. The latest case in point is the table giving the internal revenue and custom receipts, and making comparisons of the amounts paid respectively by the Southern States and a few of the larger States of the North. This table is to be used as a campaign document, and may have some effect with the people who do not reason. The evident purpose is to convey the impression that the Southern States, while exercising so much political power in the government, contribute an insignificant sum for its maintenance The idea is simply borrowed from Senator Conkling, who elaborated it at great length in his speech at the extra session. Mr. Conkling's words were not cold before it was proved on the floor of the Senate that there was absolutely nothing in his argument, and that the Southern people bear their relative share in the support of the government. If the Treasury Department has nothing more for its clerks to do than the preparation of campaign material, it would look as if the tax-payers of the country might save something by a reduction of the force. Indeed there ought to be no doubt about it, as it is understood that, in addition to such labors as the above, several of the Treasury clerks have been specially detailed to "work up" the Republican cause in Ohio. Assistant Secretary Hawley said to-day that he was not aware when giving out the table of customs and internal revenue receipts that the comparisons above referred to were made. It might be contended that this does not mend the matter, as the supposition would be that Mr. Hawley ought to know it, if he didn't.

HALIFFX.

HALIFAX, September 20.—The whole of yesterday was taken up with the trial of Sallie Jones for the murder of Mr. J. Branch's child. Messrs. Day & Zollicoffer with the State prosecuted. Messrs. Mullen & Moore and Burton for the defense. The argument lasted until a late hour last night. The counsel finally agreed upon a verdict of manslaughter as the jury could not agree. The sentence is twenty years in the State prison.

JOHNSTON.

CLAYTON, September 22.—Cool and rainy. Cotton is not going to be near an average crop. Judge Fowle's vineyard has been very full.

Trade is reviving since cotton opened.

No one has anything to say about politics.

On Sunday, the 14th inst., eighteen persons were baptized into Liberty church by Rev. George J. Dowell.

Mrs. Betsy Parish is in her seventy-eighth year. She raised fourteen children. Only eleven of them were ever married, and she now has seventy-four grand children living and fourteen dead, and fifty-four great-grand children living.

WAKE.

HOLLY SPRINGS, N. C., Sept. 18.—On Friday last (Sept. 12), this place and the surrounding community were called on to witness the interment of one of its most respected and beloved ladies.

Elizabeth Edmond, wife of Calvin H. Branch, on Thursday, September 11th, died of typhoid pneumonia, after a sickness of about two weeks, aged thirty-two years, eleven months and twenty-eight days. Her sickness was comparatively of short duration, but of the most aggravated kind. She was taken sick by a severe chill which was the prelude to a most distressing case of pneumonia, which near its close developed into a very stubborn case of typhoid pneumonia. The attending physician wrestled with this ghastly demon night and day (for which he deserves credit) thinking perhaps he would break his deathless grip—but alas! in vain was his endeavor, for on Thursday at 11:30 o'clock A. M., the black angel of death knelt at her door and she mounted to return never more, and now

"Within the silent grave she sleeps;
Round her the storm-king proudly sweeps,
Hushed is the strife that raged within,
Her body freed from guilt and sin."

She was a fond and loving mother, of a pious and retired nature, though her influence was felt wherever she went, owing to her ever advocating two of the most important factors of our existence charity and temperance. It could never be said of her that the hungry ever turned away from her door without receiving food, for she was a woman that always practiced what she preached. She was a strict member of the Baptist church, and in this as in every thing else that she was connected with, she advocated its principles and demanded its rights. In the death of this noble woman this community has lost one of the best women of this age. And especially will that bereaved husband miss her, for he will have no loving and sympathetic wife to speak those little words of cheer that send energy to the wasted brain and consolation to the sick-heart in his long hours of weakness and despondency; but this he, nor no other earthly power could prevent as it was God's will to take her from him. Those five motherless little children that she left will have no mother now around whose lap they can lisp and prattle those sweetest notes of cadence, mamma. No one to whom they can look in their hours of sickness that will be half so tender, half so careful, half so loving as their own dear mother, who has been taken by that superior power to the world above. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to that mourning husband and those little motherless children. May they receive help and consolation from Him that is ever ready to help the needy and console the sorrowful. To the departed ever again say:

"Fare thee well! a track of glory
Shows where'er thy steps have been,
Making life a lonely story,
Earth a rich romantic scene;
Dim when duty's way before us,
As the magnet charts the sea,
May the pure star glowing o'er us
Point to Heaven and to Thee!"

H.

WAKE FOREST, Sept. 22.—The weather is very cool and damp, which always comes near the equinox.

Trade is very good now considering the merchants have not received their new stocks.

Crops are good, but cotton is losing a great deal by the dry weather. It is a fact that the farmers around this place usually have excellent yields, which is due in a great measure to their study of agriculture, both theoretically and practically.

The best educated are always the best farmers, and every man should be prepared for his profession by taking a course of training and study. Let no man enter any work without making some new advances in it.

The number of students continues to increase daily. The number now present is one hundred and thirty, and all the old ones have not yet returned, besides several new ones who are to come next week. Our college has never enjoyed that extended reputation which is due it, but we are glad to say, that to-day no institution wields a greater power and influence. The young men who have gone out from here are laboring zealously for its progress, who in addition to their influence and high moral character, is telling its sweet, healthful tale. The course is truly thorough, its teachers are highly proficient in their departments and the discipline simply strict and noble.

With the many additional advantages which we now enjoy, and which are daily increasing, what institution can surpass Wake Forest, and what better selection can a young man make if he is going to college? The third new building still goes up and will be finished sometime not far distant. With such advantages and success attending any college it cannot fail to to grow and widen its influence.

ANON.

PITT.

GREENVILLE, Sept. 20.—The weather has at last changed, and we have it showery from the northeast instead of dry as heretofore.

Trade is becoming quite brisk as the new stock of goods has arrived.

The new steamer R. L. Meyers has been put upon the line from Washington to connect with the Old Dominion Line to Norfolk, Philadelphia and New York.

Rev. L. L. Nash organized a new M. E. Church near Taft's Landing last week with thirty-seven members. They named the new church Salem. Work has also been resumed on the new M. E. Church here. The Baptists have bought a house and lot from Dr. Swindell, which they propose to use as a parsonage. As the Baptist minister here is a young man I can't see what they will do with a parsonage. Perhaps the young minister knows and don't tell.

The river bridge is at last completed to the great delight of the traveling public.

Superior Court has been in session here this week. No cases of public interest. Judge Eure presided with his usual urbanity. He adjourned Court from Thursday of this week to Tuesday of next in order to go home for a few days. Visiting lawyers: Judge Rodman and J. E. Sheppard, Esq., of Washington, Hon. J. E. Moore, of Martin, and Captain Swift Galloway, of Greene. Captain Sheppard and Captain Joyner, of this place have entered into partnership for the practice of law. Both being Captains don't know which is "boss."

There is some talk still, among the negroes, of the "exodious."

There have been no marriages lately. Write it thusly: Bachelors—backward. Spinsters—no demand.

Hon. Jas. B. Yellowby, on his return from Mississippi, will find another ten pounds added to his family, over which he will rejoice muchly. It is a boy.

MOORE.

NEAR MUNN'S STATION, September 20.—The kitchen and dining room attached to the Hotel recently erected by D. M. Semons and Major J. W. Scott, at Semons Springs, was discovered on fire Thursday morning last about 2 o'clock, and before proper assistance could be had the flames extended to the main building and consumed the whole. The house was opened about three weeks since by Mr. H. C. McDonald for the accommodation of visitors. His family and guests just had time to save their baggage and most valuable furniture. Nothing saved from the kitchen or dining room. The owners of the property were hurrying the carpenters, work, and intended having the building insured in a few days. This either was a malicious act or some thief had made a raid upon the dining room and provisions of Mr. McDonald. Loss heavy; nothing insured. Other buildings will be commenced without delay. J. W. SCOTT.

KINSTON.

LENOIR, Sept. 22.—The weather has been cold and rainy for a few days. Cotton crops are cut off about half.

New goods are coming in every day. Trade is getting better. A good deal of cotton is being sold now.

The "Kinston Rifles" had a picnic at "Bond's Hill," last Thursday. A very large crowd attended, and as it was a fine dusty day they all enjoyed themselves hugely, as usual. Mr. J. G. Cox and Dr. J. A. Pollock had the pleasure of taking out the best looking young ladies on the ground.

The measles are all the go here.

FORSYTHE.

WINSTON, Sept. 22.—The weather is cool and stormy. Last Friday night the precursor of the equinox reached us, but the storm itself did not strike us till Saturday night. We have had but little rain, though gloomy clouds are abundant.

Late corn and tobacco are suffering for rain.

Trade is as usual. The health of our town is very good. We hear of a few cases of diphtheria.

Bishop Doctor Sweintz and Rev. William Rondthaler of the Moravian church in Salem returned from Europe last week.

Jim Ryan, an employee on Doctor Shaffner's farm, forged an order on the Doctor for which he was incarcerated in default of $200 bail.

A lot of old notes due the estate of J. C. Cooper were publicly sold last Saturday by Judge Starbuck, at about five cents on the dollar.

Sitting Bull in a Duel.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 21.—The Marquette Review publishes an interesting account of a duel between Sitting Bull and a Crow warrior which occurred after the fight of the 20th of June between 200 lodges of Sioux who were south of the border after buffalo, and companies of United States soldiers and 450 Cheyennes and Crows. Sitting Bull accepted the challenge, recrossed the line, shot the Crow, and scalped him and took possession of his horses. In the retreat across Milk River into Canada, Sitting Bull personally commanded the rear guard of light warriors, covering the movement, and was himself the last to cross.

A Swindler Heard From.

George C. Ford, a clever swindler who has been figuring for the last five years in various portions of the country, and recently in the South and Southwest, has been heard from in Illinois and Indiana. His method is to offer to reproduce pictures of deceased relatives from plates of ancient styles, selling the right to use the same at a discount, and after receiving his pay, leaves a letter with the victim addressed to Stone & Smith, Chicago, photographers, who exist only in imagination, and decamps with his gains. The success of the swindler is secured by treating only with women, and notwithstanding repeated warnings, he always reaps a harvest wherever he goes.

BURIED TREASURE.

THE HIDDEN WEALTH OF THE COPELANDS.

The Negro Wizard and His Divining Rod---The Mobile Darkies of Dog River.

Mobile Register, 21st.

From one of a party of gentlemen who went hunting in the southwestern part of the county last week we have obtained the following curious story of searches for the supposed-to-be buried wealth of the old Copeland gang. It seems that the negroes residing along the banks of Dog river, and in the swamps on either side of that stream, have had for years traditions of immense sums of money hidden somewhere in the low marshy ground and the forests near Dog river, and many of them have made attempts to find some of this money, we need not say without success. Our informant, while hunting in the locality mentioned, last week, came suddenly upon an aged and decrepit darkey, whose mysterious movements and queer doings excited his wonder, and remaining concealed, he watched the negro's actions. The old man had in his hand a stick about five feet long, which he was holding extended horizontally before him, following the end around in a slow and cautious manner. At intervals of a few minutes he would pause, stoop down, and examine the ground attentively, as if looking for something, and then rise up and repeat his movements with the stick. After watching him for about twenty minutes, the gentleman stepped from his concealment and called to the old darkey, asking him what he was looking for. The old man was so astonished at finding he had been watched, that for some moments he was dumb, and then tried to hide his stick from view.

By dint of persuasion and a drink from a pocket flask, the old darkey was finally induced to talk, and told our friend that he was hunting for the gold buried by the Copelands. The stick he carried proved to be his "divining rod," and consisted of a rod of black walnut, on the end of which was poised a magnetic needle which of course always pointed to the north. The old man being ignorant of the polar attraction, religiously believed that the movement of the needle was caused by the attraction of gold, and had been following its pointings for years, always hoping that he would finally strike a bonanza of hidden wealth. He had dug up the earth in all possible and impossible locations, but had not yet found anything more valuable than earth worms. Nor could he be convinced that his search would be an idle one, and all explanation in regard to the magnetic attraction of the needle fell on a deaf ear. He told our informant that there were scores of negroes in those regions who believed there was money secreted, somewhere about Dog river, and that he would continue his search until he found something. Perhaps if all these deluded freedmen would spend their time in cultivating a "patch" of ground, they would find themselves richer at the end of the year than they will ever become by finding the mythical "Copeland money."

LATE STATE NOTES.

Lincoln Progress.

On Thursday some depraved specimen of humanity broke open a window at Mr. Joseph Houser's mill and stole three bushels of wheat. When will such rascality cease?

Mr. W. H. Motz has a beautiful thoroughbred horse that is fond of eating young chickens. He has quietly eaten up a brood or two this summer, and is constantly foraging around for a new supply.

On last Sunday morning Mr. George Hause who lives about two miles west of town, left home in company with his family to visit a neighbor, and during his absence his house was destroyed by fire. All his personal property was swept away by the flames save what clothing the family was wearing.

Goldsboro Messenger.

A small negro child was burned to death a few days ago on the land of Colonel Adam J. Heath, near Smithfield, through the carelessness of its mother.

We regret to learn that Mr. J. A. Ford, of Johnston county, had his hand badly lacerated by a cotton gin, one day of last week.

The weather the past week was most auspicious for picking out cotton, and never in the history of Goldsboro were the receipts as large in any week of September. The receipts for the week, up to Saturday evening, foot up 1,005 bales.

A very sad accident occurred in the Contentnea section in Lenour county, a few days ago. During an unguarded moment a little five year old girl of Mr. A. G. Coward attempted to throw some cotton in the gin while it was running at full speed, when her hands came in contact with the saws, and both were severed from her arms. We understand that the little one suffered intensely until death relieved her from all pains. Here is a warning to parents.

Concord Register.

S. W. D. Rinehardt, of No. 9, has a tobacco stalk growing on his farm with fifteen leaves. The leaves measured from nineteen to thirty-two inches long.

Mr. Ephraim Tucker brought to town, on Monday, a cluster of twelve open cotton bolls on one stalk, and all of them within a space of eight inches.

S. D. Gilbert, Esq., showed us a beet of the turnip variety, on Tuesday, that measured twenty-six inches in circumference. It was raised by Wm. Boone in Stanly.

W. M. Robey, of Davenport Female College proposes that one hundred men subscribe $50 each to complete Davenport and put it on a firm working basis.

M. C. W. Litaker has a half acre of cotton that he thinks will make over one thousand two hundred pounds of seed cotton. Last year it made nine hundred and fifty pounds. This year the crop is much better than it was last.

On Monday, at the court house, ten shares of North Carolina Railroad stock were sold at auction at $52.50 per share for five shares, and $65 per share for five shares; and $400 new 4 per cent. North Carolina bonds sold at $60 per bond of $100—all bought by interested parties.

A female was before the court as a witness this week. When our friend Bailey questioned her, theologically, she testified that she only told the truth when her hand was on the book, that she "lied" constitutionally when she did not have her hand on "Holy Writ." Bailey fervently prayed that she might not be overlooked by the missionaries to the heathen.

Wilmington Star.

A snake about four feet long, of the species known as the rattlesnake's pilot, was killed Friday on Chesnut street, between Eighth and Ninth.

Mrs. W. F. Burch, who resides in the southern portion of the city, where she is well-known, was stricken with heart disease on Thursday evening and it was thought that she could not possibly recover, but at last accounts, Saturday, her condition had considerably improved. Mrs. Burch, who is one of our oldest native born inhabitants, being 73 years of age, has never, in her long life, been outside of the county of New Hanover.

New Berne Democrat.

The little swift, side-wheel steamer Kalula will make tri-weekly trips between this city and Swift Creek; this steamer will supply a desideratum long since felt by our Swift Creek friends.

We had a vegetable curiosity in the shape of a sweet potato placed on our table on last Saturday; it was of two distinct varieties combined, though the two varieties were plainly marked in the color of the potato, one half of it being white, and the other pink; it was a most singular cross between the Bermudian and the Haman.

Bakersville Republican.

Mrs. Caroline Bowman, living near this place, has an apple tree on her farm, in full bloom.

Mr. John Deal has left the twig of an apple tree with us that has two full grown apples and three blossoms on it.

A crane that had lost his bearings or had come up to the mountains as a tourist made its appearance on Little Rock Creek last week. Some of the inhabitants, who had never seen a bird of that description before were somewhat frightened but before they could recover from their astonishment and get their shot guns, his craneship was out of shooting distance on his way to the deep blue sea. We quieted their fears by informing them that it was a bird of paradise from Elizabeth City.

SUICIDE.

A Young Lady Goes into the Woods and Hangs Herself.

Monroe Enquirer, 20th.

Information was brought to this place last Thursday evening that Miss Mary Ann Webb, who was living with the family of her brother, Mr. Eli Webb, near Beaver Dam, had committed suicide in the woods near home by hanging. We gather the following from Mr. H. W. Simpson, a near neighbor, who assisted in the search for her: On rising from the breakfast table Wednesday morning, the deceased declared her intention of visiting another brother's family, who lived perhaps three-quarters of a mile away. She was seen to cross the fence a few moments afterward, going in the direction of her brother, and the natural conclusion was, that she had gone there. Late in the afternoon it became known that she was not at her brother's, and had not been there during the day and that a rope was missing from the yard.

The family becoming uneasy, at once, with the help of neighbors, instituted search for her in the woods, which was kept up through the night and until about 8 o'clock next morning, when her body was found suspended to a limb of a tree which stood in 300 yards of the house. The limb was only four and a half feet from the ground, hence the body did not swing clear—the heels resting on the ground. She had used a very small rope that had been used about the yard to tie the calf. No definite cause can be assigned for the rash act. At times her mind was somewhat deranged and it is supposed that one of these spells was upon her at the time, though the family had noticed nothing wrong with her for the previous few days. The verdict of the coroner's jury was in accordance with the above facts: that she had taken her own life by hanging.

Tilden in Pennsylvania.

Pittsburg Post.

There can be no doubt about the opinion of the Pennsylvania Democracy in regard to the next Presidential nomination. There will be an unanimous delegation for Tilden, and with scarcely any opposition. In all our knowledge of politics it was never so clear a case of the people taking the bit in their mouth and running away with "the machine," so-called. The leading State and local politicians are not particularly friendly to the sage of Gramercy Park, but when you get to the people there is no mistake about the candidate they want and the candidate they are determined to have. What effect an adverse result in New York this fall would have, it is impossible to anticipate, but at present the Pennsylvania Democracy are for Tilden on grounds of availability, as well as justice to the man, the party and the country.

A Louisiana Bargain.

Livingstonian.

It happened on Blind river. Shon, a German, having become disgusted with the world generally, and his family and location in particular, resolved to make the best he could of a bad bargain; and so he interviewed a countryman relative to the disposal of his wordly possessions. His friend, Fritz, being of a sympathizing and generous turn of mind, offered Shon "thirty turtles" for his entire property, including the wife and four children. The bargain was immediately closed, and the last seen of Shon was in a skiff, floating down the river in quest of a market for his turtles. These are facts, although the circumstances occurred in Ascension.

A Nest of Golden Eggs.

California Correspondence Baltimore Sun.

A nest of golden nuggets was exposed imbedded in auriferous gravel, at Vallecito. Over a peck of the little gold eggs laid in the nest, packed tightly in red gravel. They were of all shapes and sizes. One of the largest weighed five and a half ounces, and all were bright.

Unmailable Letters.

W. W. Jilz, number 2,922 Pine street, Saint Louis, has a letter addressed to him in the post office here, but having no stamp remains dead in this office.

Mr. L. R. Ferebee, Winston, N. C., also has a letter, minus a stamp, addressed to him, "in haste."

Unless his correspondent is somewhat hasty in affixing the necessary stamp, the dead letter office at Washington will soon receive it.

The Ravages of Consumption.

The fearful death-roll, covering from a fourth to a third of the number in nearly every published bill of mortality, shows how vainly the medical profession is contending with this cruel enemy of our race. Every one feels that some new agent of relief and cure is the imperative demand of the age. That such an agent, acting in perfect harmony with science and the laws of physiology, has been discovered in "Compound Oxygen" we confidently declare. Some of the most brilliant cures which have been made during the past twelve years by this new treatment have been in Consumption. The amplest information will be found in our "Treatise on Compound Oxygen." It is sent free. Address Drs. STARKEY & PALEN, 1112 Girard Street, Philadelphia, Pa. Sept 18, '79.

JARVIS vs. MANNING.

THE NORTH CAROLINA JUDGESHIP MATTER.

A Southern Correspondent Chases the Appointment as a Ku-Klux Matter--A Gubernatorial Fight.

Correspondence of the New York Times.

RALEIGH, N. C. September 21.—In connection with the letter of the Hon. John Manning accepting the appointment of Judge of the Superior Court which was declared by Governor Jarvis not to be an acceptance, it has leaked out that certain ex-leaders of the Ku-klux exerted their influence to prevent Governor Jarvis from commissioning Mr. Manning. Every effort has been made to keep the cloven foot hidden, but it has been brought to light through the friends of Manning that the war record of Messrs. Gilmer and Manning had a great deal to do with the preferment of the one and the rejection of the other. Manning was a staunch Union man in 1860 and 1861, and resisted secession until the ordinance was passed; he then went with his State, but never had love enough for the Confederacy to enter the army and fight. Then, again, it is well understood that just after the war, Manning came very near joining the Republican party, and did not do so because he did not meet with the encouragement that his ability and standing deserved. It must be remembered that Manning is a strong friend of ex-Senator Merrimon, having aided to defeat Governor Vance and elect Merrimon United States Senator in 1872. This fact is not relished by radical Democrats, who are controlling Governor Jarvis and his administration.

Adding to these facts the tender of the office of Secretary of State to Manning, it was thought to be time that Governor Jarvis had found out that Chatham is not the only county in the State, and that the Hon. John Manning is not the only prominent Democrat in the State who deserves well of his party. Referring to these matters, Manning's friends are fierce in their denunciation of what they denominate the Ku-klux influence. They call attention to the fact that it has been proved that Colonel Hamilton C. Jones, of Charlotte, and Mr. Frederic N. Strudwick, of Hillsboro, were among the first persons initiated into the Ku-klux Klan in this State. They charge that Jones and Strudwick were in Raleigh for several days just before the appointment was made, and that they were closeted with Jarvis, and induced him to wriggle out of appointing Manning by acting the demagogue and trickster, in attaching any importance to the superfluous and spread-eagle sentiments embraced in the fatal post-script to what is known as "Manning's double-back-action letter of acceptance." They also assert that Jarvis has thrown himself into the arms of the fire-eaters of his party; and that no man who did not strap a knapsack to his back and shoulder his gun and fight for Jeff. Davis need apply for appointment or preferment under the Jarvis administration.

In 1876, Manning entered the combination that defrauded General W. R. Cox of the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor and gave the nomination to Jarvis. It is thought by Cox and his friends that Jarvis has effectually put Manning out of politics, and that Cox will not be troubled with Manning in 1880 as he was in 1876. On the other hand, it is said by the friends of the State Administration that Manning does not approve the revolutionary and nullifying schemes of the Democratic party as enunciated by the extra session of Congress, and for this reason it is the part of good policy to keep him in the walks of private life. Gov. Jarvis does not partake of this feeling, for it is now said that after Gilmer had been appointed Judge, the Governor wrote Mr. Manning explaining his action in appointing Gilmer. He added a post-script in which he said he hoped soon to have the opportunity of offering Manning a much higher and better place than the Judgeship of the Superior Court. The writer would not dare make the assertion upon his own responsibility, but he has heard it talked on the streets that "the higher and better place" alluded to by the Governor, has reference to the Chief-Justiceship of the Supreme Court. The gentleman who occupies that exalted position is in poor health and may not live long. It is hardly possible that the Governor "hoped" for the sudden exit of the Chief-Justice except by resignation on account of ill-health.

While all these things are going on, the Hon. D. G. Fowle, the most dangerous opponent Jarvis has, sits under his own vine and fig-tree, and in the simplicity of his Round-head faith, has brought himself to the belief that he is at least one of the elect so far as the Governorship of North Carolina is concerned.

Donations to The North Carolina Agricultural Society.

The following are donations to the North Carolina Agricultural Society for the 19th Annual State Fair, to be held at Raleigh, October 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th next, acknowledged by C. B. Denson, secretary, in behalf of the Executive Committee:

One creamer, given by John Boyd, manufacturer of the Cooley Portable Creamer, 175 and 179 Lake street, Chicago, Illinois. This valuable gift is a donation worth having, and we invite the attention of dairymen, farmers and others to it. The creamers are similar to refrigerators, and sold at from $25 to $75 each. By their use the cream will rise much sooner, the milk being placed in them warm from the cow. The same firm manufactures other articles for the dairy.

One dozen Andrews' patent Hitching Bar $12, given by Stiles Frost, Boston, Massachusetts. This bar is an ingenious device for hitching horses, and may be attached to posts, trees, buildings, or any convenient place, hanging down out of the way, when not in use, and effectually preventing any cribbing or gnawing when used. A specimen may be seen at the office of the Secretary.

One selection of phototypes and photographs, framed, given by F. Gretekunst, 712 Arch street, Philadelphia, Pa. This handsome collection is presented by a firm which offers a very interesting new process by which photographs may be copied in ordinary printer's ink, on any good paper, and by the addition of the platinum process, the pictures are strictly permanent. If printed on a linen surface, it will not wash out. The great softness and beauty of their work may be seen in the specimens at the office of the Secretary. It makes a wonderful advance in the art of photography.

Worthless Stuff.

Not so fast my friend; if you could see the strong, healthy, blooming men, women and children that have been raised from beds of sickness, suffering and almost death, by the use of Hop Bitters, you would say "Glorious and invaluable remedy." See another column.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1879.

CHICAGO, the cheerful home of the valuable Tribune, is once more under the guns of the Communists. Gentlemen owning town lots thereabout must be in a pleasant state of mind.

MR. GARFIELD, when in Maine, dealt exclusively with the "Southern question." He declared recently that the "whole South was like a doubled fist of rebelism," bound to "seize the Government," etc. The dreadful fear of losing the offices leads the Republican Brigadiers to say some very silly things sometimes.

THE shot-gun policy has been approved by the Illinois Judges, and it saddens us to read in the holy Chicago Tribune a paragraph such as this:

Judge Barnum's recent decision on the militia bill bore fruit yesterday, when, in defiance of law and the majesty of the people of the State, the communist military companies, to the number of 308 armed men, made an impudent parade through several of the main thoroughfares of the city,

THE Rev. Dr. W. H. Simpson has been making a computation, and he announces that during the last few years 14,000 white and black Republicans have been murdered in the State of Texas. If the Republican campaign committees had only known this they would have paid very little attention to other States and would have saved themselves the trouble of saddling a beggarly three thousand "political murders" on Mississippi. Simpson does not give the details of his 14,000 murders.

ON our first page will be found a Raleigh letter to the New York Times, relating to the vacant Judgeship matter. We cannot be expected to indorse the statement, but publish it as a piece of political news. It appears to us, though, that the writer's guess-work is carrying him out of bounds. The letter is in bad taste anyway, as anyone north of Mason and Dixon's line would be led to believe that the Ku-Klux were in actual possession of the State. This Republican long-range firing will not harm Governor Jarvis, however, and as there is nobody killed, why, let them fire away.

THE Rochester (N. Y.) Union says: "In New York, a great many of the largest houses are compelled to work night and day to fill the orders for the Southern trade, and other business centers were the same way. This is a better argument for the mass of the people than all the bloody-shirt doctrines of the Stalwart Republicans." It is indeed, and the Northern business men are very glad to get this Southern trade, which indicates prosperity in that part the Union, and are always ready to sell to the alleged murderers, assassins and repudiators, for they are perfectly aware that the Northern Republican papers are lying when they depict the South as one vast ruin, given over to a wassail of crime and idleness.

"ON TO KANSAS!"

In yesterday's issue of the NEWS was published what purported to be an interview with two colored school-teachers of the IId Congressional District in general and no place in particular, who were in Washington for the purpose of presenting a petition to the National Emigration Aid Society asking for aid to emigrate to some of the Western States or Territories. It is stated there were one hundred and sixty-three signatures attached to the petition—a rather small showing for the three good counties of Greene, Wayne and Lenoir—but, somewhat singular in a matter of this kind, not a name was given beyond that of the two "engineers" of this delectable scheme for the advancement of the colored folk.

We append the petition, and request a careful consideration of it, that the game these two men, Perry and Williams, are playing may be understood by all:

We, the undersigned colored people of the second Congressional district of North Carolina (comprising the counties of Greene, Wayne and Lenoir, having labored hard for several years under disadvantages over which we had no control, to elevate ourselves to a higher plane of Christian civilization, and whereas, our progress has been so retarded as to nearly nullify all our efforts, after dispassionate and calm consideration, our deliberate conviction is, that emigration is the only way in which we can elevate ourselves to a higher plane of true citizenship.

As our means are insufficient to emigrate without the aid of friends, we therefore petition your honorable body through our worthy agents, Samuel L. Perry and Peter C. Williams, for aid to emigrate to some of the Western States or Territories. And we furthermore agree to be bound by any contract that they may enter into in their efforts to secure aid for our transportation and settlement, and your petitioners will ever pray.

In the first place there is no movement of this nature of any consequence taking place in Wayne county, if we may credit the Goldsboro Messenger. Attempts have been made to start an "exodus" fever, but they signally failed. Such attempts had been previously made in Halifax, Craven and other counties, and met with like fate.

Some three weeks since a negro, well dressed, with considerable jewelry and plenty of money, spent four or five days in this city canvassing for a movement similar to this. He would button-hole this or that man, take him into a saloon and treat him, and then open his plan of operations. His saloon bills must have amounted to eight or ten dollars a day—an outlay on which he will reap but little profit, as he failed to arouse any enthusiasm, and departed a sadder if not a wiser man.

This scheme of the Messrs. Perry and Williams is probably of like nature. The petition would seem to indicate it. Why were not the names of the most prominent of the colored men reputed to have signed the paper given to the public? This matter of one hundred and sixty-three names is altogether too vague. And why should one hundred and sixty-three colored men of that district delegate to two men the power to contract for them a system of peonage of the same nature and fully as bad as the Coolie trade? "And we further-"more agree to be bound by any contract 'that they [Perry and Williams] may en-"ter into in their efforts to secure aid for "our transportation and settlement!" Verily, this is carrying slavery into a "free State" with a vengeance. And who are "our worthy agents," Williams and Perry? They do not appear to hail from any particular locality; Nobody seems to have heard of them, and yet by the terms of the petition they are endowed with power ample as that of the Chinese "Six Companies."

So far as the statements contained in the interview are concerned, they need no refutation. The colored people in this State are treated as fairly as the laboring classes in other States. There may be some acts of injustice done them, but such things are common elsewhere. The colored people of North Carolina as a whole take no stock in the emigration scheme. They are succeeding remarkably well in their undertakings. It was hard at first, but they are now prospering. They have several papers established. One, the Journal of Industry, is printed in the NEWS office, and appears to be doing well. These people are accumulating some little property. They have organized and are carrying to completion an industrial exposition, for the purpose of showing the products of the colored race, that will undoubtedly be the largest of the kind ever attempted. They are receiving good encouragement from the white people in this undertaking, and the list of premiums that are enabled to be offered by donations is swelling rapidly.

The colored people of North Carolina as a whole are doing well and will rapidly improve. The start has been made and the worst is now over. They are fully recognized as citizens. Their civic associations are upheld and supported. And the only distinction apparent is that the social line is as distinctly drawn as it is between the rich and the poor of Washington city.

We take no particular stock in this interview. It is too thin a campaign dodge. North Carolina has been so quiet of late, and has been so often cited as an evidence of fair treatment of the colored race, that it actually became necessary to create a new series of "startling developments" to "fire the Northern heart."

There will be no effort made to prevent those negroes that so choose from going to Kansas or anywhere else. If the State has an overabundance of labor within her limits it would be better for all, in one sense, that the unemployed should emigrate. Perhaps destitution and suffering in Kansas are preferable: but we fail to see it.

And the Aid Society would do well to make inquiries regarding the matter before issuing funds to any irresponsible agent.

"Doctors Will Differ."

Correspondence of the News.

"If the critic of the NEWS will show wherein we have been unjust to the little history in question, we shall be glad to make the necessary correction. Let him point it out over his own signature, etc."

Thus writes the editor of the Wilmington Star, concerning a gentle rebuke which was administered on the score of the presumption of the said editor in likening himself to Macaulay while affecting to criticise a School History of North Carolina, written by Major Wheeler Moore.

The writer had no intention of entering the list for or against Moore's History, or of seeking literary laurels in an unequal conflict with the genius of the Star. So far as his personality is concerned, he says with Mr. Toots, "It's of no consequence." The public is only concerned with the truth of the history, and the individuality of the writer matters little, as he is not supposed to evolve historical facts from the depths of his own consciousness, but only to declare what the records will demonstrate.

The "critic of the NEWS" accepts the polite invitation of the Star, and will cheerfully attempt "to show wherein we (the Star) have been unjust to the little history in question."

Let us state the situation as clearly as we can. For several months, the columns of the Star have teemed with labored articles, and bristled with bitter paragraphs, assailing Moore's History, and though abounding in the most absurd blunders, yet pretending to correct the author of that work. Nauseated at last by the airs of Sir Oracle, the writer indulged in a smile at a piece of vanity as curious in its way, as it was interesting as a psychological study. Whereupon the Star fell upon this luckless wight, and defied him to criticise the critic.

Let it be understood that the present writer had never seen Major Moore or held communication with him in his life, had no sort of acquaintance with him or his friends, and no interest in the main question at issue, further than amusement mingled with disgust at such specimens of historic knowledge gravely paraded before the public.

He did not believe that such strictures were anywhere regarded as genuine criticism, but that they were given currency in harmless sufferance of the idiosyncrasy of the Star. Why run a tilt against windmills? But to his surprise, D. has observed some most respectable journals apparently giving their sanction to the tissue of pitiful errors and of "misrepresentations" ("I thank thee for the word"), entitled "Short Notes on Moore's History."

It is not to be supposed that a fair hearing will not be cheerfully granted by the press upon questions so important to the people of this State. We are sure that their high sense of justice will be prompt to correct the wrongs inflicted upon Major Moore if the case be clearly and fairly made out. Heretofore delayed by engrossing duties we shall endeavor now to set down an impartial judgment.

The history undoubtedly contains some errors, but they will be found few, and unimportant, save in one or two instances, and we venture to say that it would be difficult to find a first edition of any popular history with a better record. We hope, however, that Major Moore will be more fortunate in a proof reader for the next edition, as some amazing misprints remain, giving color to a certain style of puerile criticism, which would not be so laughable if it were not gravely thought to be profoundly literary.

The editor of that excellent paper, the Wilmington Review, thinks that the matter concerns not so much Major Moore, or the editor of the Star, as it does the children of North Carolina who are to study the history of their State from its pages. Just so; we fully agree, and because of that, ask of our friends that truth shall be elicited in honorable discussion, and that absurd and incorrect statements shall not be accepted, to the villification of an honest and faithful work, and to the confusion of the minds of the young. We repeat our complete assurance of a full and fair hearing from the Review, and from other journals which we greatly esteem, some of which have hastily given an importance to the Star's criticisms, which we doubt not they will cheerfully disavow, when the subject is further examined.

We shall try to show what value should be assigned to the critiques of the Star, in a spirit of candor, and we hope we may modestly add, of exact representation of the declaration of our best authorities, to consult which, with some patience, this paper has been delayed.

The objections to the criticisms of the Star are briefly as follows:

1. They are conceived in a bad spirit.
2. They are the offspring of a selfish motive.
3. They are inherently worthless for the most part.

These experiences appear harsh, but we write in the best possible temper, and trust to show that such ends are not said without reason.

The "notes" begin in an apparently fair and "manly" way, as for example:

"We repeat that we regard it as important that this book should have been written, however defective it may be. It is an acquisition neither to be overlooked nor under-estimated, for it is of substantial value. That there are errors was to have been expected. There would have been errors of taste and judgment, and even of dates and events, however painstaking the author might have been, for to err, is human." Such language is very musical and charitable, but alas! for the frailty of man, when the furor scribendi has wrought upon him.

"Hic stupet, attonitus vostris: plausus que plebis que pabrum per cuneos (emin geminatur) corripuit hunc hiantem:" "Georgics, Book II

[At our old tricks, with scraps of Latin. The printer's devil is begged to spare our poor little Latinity from painful review.]

A couple of months pass by in platitudinous assaults and such a paragraph as this appears:

"It may be stupid in us to say so, but we have an impression that it would not be a great compliment to any educated gentlemen to say that his style was equal to that of Mr. Moore's history. 'But Doctors will differ' and, for aught, we know, our sapient critic of the NEWS may regard Macaulay and Froude and Gibbon as quite commonplace when compared with the wonderful little North Carolina book that excites so much gushing praise and voluntary sympathy."

Does this betray the cool impartiality of the literary judge? The accomplished editor of the Star, for whom we confess to a feeling of admiration when piping dulcet notes before the shrine of Tennyson, is free with advice to others; in fact he is liberal, with a general disregard of consequences. Let us therefore whisper, despite our general regard for his ability as an essayist, that we are sure that he has yet to learn to divest his critiques of a personal tone that is fatal to their dignity. Judges on the bench, even in the literary world, do not make mouths even at delinquents, unless indeed, such arbiters of letters happen to be Macaulays.

But the spirit of the "Notes" of the Star will be more fully seen when we come to consider the perversions of Moore's text and meanings, the deliberate advice to him not to omit things which he has already fully treated, and the ridiculous assumption that a school-book should have contained details enough for an encyclopedia.

So much at present for the spirit of the "Notes." We happen to have other evidence on this point, and we regret to say less creditable in its character, but forbear unless it be needful.

Our next point, that is to say, the selfishness of the motives inspiring the repeated attacks of months past, may fairly be inferred, from the perusal of the advertisement below which we are pleased to rescue from oblivion in the pages of the unfortunate, but meritorious "Our Living and Our Dead," vol. III. p. 699:

A HISTORY FOR SCHOOLS AND FAMILIES.

"The writer has long been satisfied that an important desideratum was a "History of North Carolina for Schools and Families, from 1564 to 1860." He has been often asked for such a work, and has been compelled to reply that there was no such book written. We greatly need a compendium outline history of our State, to be comprised in a duodecimo volume of not more than four hundred pages. For years the writer has endeavored to persuade others to attempt the labor, but as yet no one has been found who will enter upon the preparation of such a long-needed work. He has resolved to undertake the writing of such a history. In a short time, as soon as he can collect the necessary books, he will begin his labors, and hopes to have the History ready for the press in eighteen months or two years at the furthest. The work will progress as rapidly as his other literary labors will allow, as he will retain his place as the chief contributor to "Our Living and Our Dead." His address is Oxford, N. C.

T. B. K * * * *.

"P. S.—If he should be spared to complete this undertaking, he hopes then to enter upon another work to which he will devote many years, if his life should be protracted so long. "A History of North Carolina for Libraries, from 1564 to 1860," to be contained in two octavo volumes of some five hundred pages each. This work will probably not appear under eight years, as he can only devote a portion of working hours to such an undertaking."

Can such things be and overcome us like a summer cloud without our special wonder?

We sincerely regret the disappointment of the editor of the Star, but really can not esteem that as justification for his assaults on the work of his rival. It is in order now to witness a vehement asseveration that the memory of this ghost of the past has naught to do with the vigor and virulence of the effort to destroy the audacious man who has not only promised a history but published a history. Be it so.

We will not indulge a wicked inclination to repeat a certain "pungent" epitaph upon a stillborn infant, but will rather compliment the editor of the Star upon the iron nerves with which the ancient rival of Major Moore for the suffrages of posterity as the historian of North Carolina, can of all men now venture into the judicial seat to pronounce an impartial judgment upon the work of his competitor. An Areopagite without guile!

But spirit and motive aside, the public is chiefly concerned upon the third point of our reference, whether the criticisms are just and substantial, or shallow and worthless. We will strive to answer, by the courtesy of the NEWS.

Meantime, in our humble way, we beg the Star to meditate on this couplet, and promise to add something to the excerpt by and by:

"O how portentous is prosperity,
How, comet-like, it threatens while it shines!"

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

Miscellaneous.

VEGETINE

For Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fever,

Or what is more commonly termed FEVER AND AGUE, with pain in the loins and through the back, and indescribable chilly sensation down the spine, an irresistible disposition to yawn pain in the eyes, which is increased by moving them, a blue tinge in the skin, and great listlessness and debility. Vegetine is a safe and positive remedy. It is compounded exclusively from the juices of carefully selected barks and herbs, and so strongly concentrates that it is one of the greatest cleansers of the blood that is or can be put together. Vegetine does not stop with breaking Chills and Fever, but it extends its wonderful influence into every part of the human system, and entirely eradicates every taint of disease. Vegetine does not act as a powerful cathartic, or debilitate the bowels and cause the patient to dread other serious complaints which must inevitably follow; but it strikes at the root of disease by purifying the blood, restores the liver and kidneys to healthy action, regulates the bowels, and assists Nature in performing all the duties that devolve upon her.

Thousands of invalids are suffering today from the effects of powerful purgative nostrums, frightful quantities of quinine, and poison doses of arsenic, neither of which ever have, or ever could, reach the true cause of their complaint.

Vegetine

works in the human system in perfect harmony with nature's laws, and while it is pleasant to the taste, genial to the stomach, and mild in its influence on the bowels, it is absolute in its action on disease, and is not a vile, nauseous Bitters, purging the invalid into false hope that they are being cured. Vegetine is a purely Vegetable Medicine, compounded upon scientific principles. It is indorsed by the best physicians where its virtues have been tested, is recommended only where medicine is needed, and is not a mixture of cheap whiskey sold under the cloak of Bitters.

GIVES HEALTH, STRENGTH, AND APPETITE.

My daughter has received great benefit from the use of Vegetine. Her declining health was a source of great anxiety to all of her friends. A few bottles of the Vegetine restored her health, strength, and appetite.

Vegetine.

POLICE TESTIMONY.

BOSTON, Nov. 18, 1875.

Dear Sir,—During the past five years I have had ample opportunity to judge of the merits of Vegetine. My wife has used it for complaints attending a lady of delicate health, with more beneficial results than anything else which she ever tried. I have given it to my children under almost every circumstance attending a large family, and always with marked benefit. I have taken it myself with such great benefit that I cannot find words to express my unqualified appreciation of its goodness.

While performing my duties as a Police Officer in this city, it has been my lot to fall in with a great deal of sickness. I unhesitatingly recommend Vegetine, and I never knew of a case where it did not prove all that was claimed for it. Particularly in cases of debilitated or impoverished state of the blood, its effects are really wonderful; and, for all complaints arising from an impure state of the blood, it appears to work like a charm; and I do not believe there are any circumstances under which Vegetine can be used with injurious results; and it will always afford me pleasure to give any further information as to what I know about Vegetine.

Booming for Hendricks.

St. Louis Times-Journal.

Mr. Tilden out of the way, the National thought will turn instinctively to the West for a candidate. Mr. Thurman and Mr. Hendricks are the prominent figures in the West, and one of these will be chosen. It will not be Mr. Thurman. All signs point to Mr. Hendricks as the coming President of the United States.

Davis and Hancock.

From the Chicago Times.

Senator McDonald thinks that General Hancock would be a strong candidate. And so he would, if coupled with another strong candidate. For instance, if the ticket were, for Vice-President, General Hancock, of Pennsylvania; for President, David Davis, of Illinois.

Beautifiers.

Cuticura

REMEDIES

Have speedily and permanently cured Humors of the Skin and Scalp of Children and Infants afflicted since birth.

The treatment prescribed in such cases is mild doses of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, a perfectly safe yet powerful blood purifier, and the external use of CUTICURA, the great skin cure. The CUTICURA SOAP should be the only soap applied to the diseased skin for cleansing purposes.

Humor on a Child

Since Birth Cured, after faithful Medical Treatment had failed.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen,—My little son, two years of age, has had a humor on one side of his face since he was born, which during the last four months has spread over the entire side of the face, the child ear, and side of the head. It must have itched and irritated him a great deal, as he scratched the surface all the time, no matter what was applied. I used many remedies by advice of friends and my physician without benefit until I found CUTICURA, which immediately allayed the itching and inflammation, and entirely cured him. Respectfully, JOHN L. SURRY.
With Walworth Manufacturing Co.
BOSTON, April 15, 1878.

NOTE. Once cured, the skin may be rendered soft and fair by using the Cuticura Soap exclusively for toilet or nursery purposes.

CHILDREN AND INFANTS.

More Cures of Skin and Scalp Affections by the Cuticura Remedies.

Fred. Rohrer, Esq., Cashier Stock Growers' National Bank, Pueblo, Colorado, writes: "I am so well pleased with its effects on my baby, that I cannot afford to be without it in my house. It is a wonderful cure, and is bound to become very popular as soon as its virtues are known to the masses."

J. S. Weeks, Esq., Town Treasurer, St. Albans, Vt., says in a letter dated May 28: "It works to a charm on my baby's face and head. Cured the head entirely, and has nearly cleaned the face of sores. I have recommend it to several, and Dr. Plant has ordered it for them."

M. M. Chick, Esq., 41 Franklin St., Boston, says: "My little daughter, eighteen months old, has what the doctors call Eczema. We have tried 'most everything, and at last have used CUTICURA, and she is almost a new child, and we feel very happy."

Prickly Heat.

Incidental to the Texan Climate.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen.—Enclosed please find one dollar for a large box of CUTICURA. The small one that I received some time ago has been very efficacious, especially in Prickly Heat or Rash, as some people call it. I am noising it about.
Yours truly, THOMAS W. BUCKLEY.
MASON, Texas, Sept. 22, 1878.

CUTICURA is a most valuable external application. It heals all cuts, bruises, and abrasions of the skin, restores the hair when destroyed by scalp diseases, removes dandruff and keeps the scalp clean and the hair soft and pliable. It is as agreeable as it is effective, and is ably assisted, in every case by the CUTICURA SOAP, which is particularly recommended to mothers for cleansing the skin and scalp of infants and children. It is Toilet as well as Medicinal, and is the most fragrant and refreshing Soap for the nursery and bath of any these prepared.

Parents have our assurance that these remedies contain nothing injurious to the youngest infant, evidence of which may be found in the certificates of Dr. Hayes and Prof. Merrick accompanying each remedy.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by Weeks & Potter, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of Cuticura, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes $1. Resolvent, $1 per bottle. Cuticura Soap, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 30 cents; 3 cakes, 75 cents.

Fever and Ague is most common in the spring, but most severe in the fall and winter. MAX. J. GORMAN—Cheirograph.
ALFRED WILLIAMS—Local notice.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

——The baby rolls upon the floor,
Kicks up his tiny feet,
And pokes his toes into his mouth—
Thus making both ends meet.
The dog attached to a tin pail,
Goes howling down the street,
And, as he madly bites his tail,
He maketh both ends meet.
The butcher slays the pensive pig,
Cuts off his ears and feet,
And grinds them in a sausage big—
Thus making both ends meet.

——The peach season is on its last legs.

——Feather bonnets will be fashionable.

——Colonel Thomas Ruffin is in the city.

——Nobody's child—Joshua, the son of Nun.

——Nine and a half and nine and five-eighths.

——Norfolk pineth for a roller skating rink.

——A disagreeable picture—Picked yer pocket.

——Dull times with the county officials—not an item.

——Revenue receipts yesterday amounted to $597.52.

——Professor Mangum of the State University is in the city.

——Only $7,000 of old bonds received yesterday for exchange.

——The family of Captain J. W. Lee are all sick with the diptheria.

——Married ladies will please lock up their husbands. Fanny Davenport is coming.

——The directory men were out yesterday getting names, etc., for their new directory.

——Only a small portion of the State of Texas is cultivated, the rest being used for graveyards.

——A new brick pavement has been laid in front of the Singer Machine office, on Fayetteville street.

——On and after to-day the NEWS will post a bulletin in front of the office of the New York noon cotton quotations.

——Judging from the pile of boxes in front of the "Marble Hall" Mr. Creech is receiving a large stock of fall goods just now.

——R. B. Andrews & Co., have an unusually large line of hats in stock for fall wear and their prices are remarkably low.

——Gravestones do not mention the fact, but there have been men whose dying was the only good thing accomplished by them.

——Mr. B. H. Woodell has returned from the North where he has been to purchase his fall stock. He is now occupying the store on Martin street next to the NEWS Building.

——Mr. J. M. Rosenbaum is now receiving the largest and best selected stock of clothing he has ever purchased. He is polite, accommodating, reliable and very pleasant to deal with.

——Music may have "charms to soothe the savage breast," but a sixteen octave dinner gong has a more soothing effect upon the civilized breast of a hungry man than a whole brass band.

——Mr. C. C. Moore, passenger agent of the Virginia Midland Route, and Mr. R. A. Jenkins, of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia line, are in the city, looking after the interests of their roads. Mr. Moore's headquarters is at Alexandria, Va., and Mr. Jenkin's at Greensboro.

——A young lady in a certain place in Wayne county asked the prayers of the congregation because she could not set eyes upon a certain young man in her neighborhood without feelings as though she must hug him to death. That congregation ought to pray for all that they are worth; the bare possibility of such a death is fearful to contemplate.

Another Drummer.

The State Treasurer yesterday issued a drummer's license to T. A. Bryan & Co.

Police Court.

Mayor Manly had another holiday, yesterday. Only one case of drunk and down demanded his official attention, which was appropriately disposed of.

Mrs. Moon in Raleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Moon arrived in the city yesterday, and will remain over several days. Mrs. Moon will occupy the pulpit of the Edenton Street Methodist church next sabbath.

Released.

George Scott, was released from jail yesterday, by order of Mayor Manly, and now rejoiceth as a free man once more.

Nicholas Rogers, having given the required bond for his appearance at the next court, was also released.

Personal.

Hon. Samuel L. Love, State Auditor, returned to the city yesterday, and is quartered for the winter at the National Hotel.

Mr. John M. Roberts of the Southern Express Company was at the National yesterday, and is now on the run from Greensboro to Goldsboro.

The Cheirograph.

Attention is called to the advertisement, to be found in another column, of this new and simple arrangement for copying letters, and all kinds of written instruments, drawings, etc. The NEWS has one and has tested its value. It is all that is claimed for it. Mr. M. J. Gorman has secured the sole agency for this State and will soon have the city canvassed by an agent. It is a good thing. Try it.

Tall Cotton Picking.

Stephen Bell, engaged on Willis Avera's plantation, in Johnston county, the old "Northrop Bell" place, commenced picking cotton on Monday, September 8th, and this is the result of his work for eight consecutive days, excluding Sunday: 130, 250, 350, 375, 34, 65, 321, 190; total, 1,765 pounds. The cotton gave out on the days the smallest picking was done, or the aggregate would have footed to a good round amount.

U. S. Commissioner's Court.

Joe McAlister is the negro who demanded a hearing before the Commissioner, some days since, saying that he had heard that he was charged with counterfeiting money. Commissioner Purnell complied with his request by entering into an examination of his case yesterday. There was no evidence tending to implicate him in any such transaction and Joseph went on his way rejoicing.

Justice's Court.

Justice Barbee was stretched out on a table; a Webster's unabridged dictionary for a pillow, and the "court room" fairly echoing the nasalized thunder as it proceeded from his "courtly" nostrils. He awoke with a yawn (after a punch in the ribs), and informed the reporter that the court was taking a rest. Hadn't had a case all day. The arms of Mis—ah. Morpheus soon surrounded him again and he was left to his dreams.

Removal.

Mr. T. R. Loader, the well-known and popular merchant tailor, has removed his place of business and now occupies the store in the rear of Rosenbaum's clothing house. He is handsomely fitted up and, as he says, is much better prepared to serve his numerous customers. Mr. Loader is a fine tailor and enjoys a large patronage. Those who desire a handsome fit in a fall suit will do well to call on Mr. Loader.

It is asserted that the ordinary cosmetics used by ladies are productive of great mischief.
